

A message from our President, Jack Williams

The Little Hallelujah of Gratitude

As we move forward to the balance of this calendar year, I think about our goals and vision. Our goal is the same, as it should be: To see more patients. We have believed in this goal because it is the perfect description of what we seek to do, each day.

READ MORE

Check out our latest content!

In her own words: Telehealth restores Erica Land's hope

We're extremely proud of our Clinical Operations Associate, Erica Land, for sharing her story with Bizwomen's series, "In Her Own Words: Living in the Age of Coronavirus." The pandemic impacted all of us, but for those with loved ones suffering from opioid addiction, telehealth provided hope for a better chance at recovery.

READ MORE

5 Ways VirtualMed Staff's project managers help clients succeed

Implementing a telemedicine program is easier than you think – especially with a telemedicine partner like VirtualMed Staff. To ensure the long-term success and sustainability of our clients and partners, we assign a dedicated project manager to work directly with you each step of the way.

READ MORE

5 Ways telemedicine is changing healthcare

Life is different now. From unsettling coronavirus infection rates to social distance affecting everyday life, COVID-19 has initiated an embrace of remote meetings, birthdays, and virtually everything that once required face-to-face interaction. This is especially true in healthcare.

READ MORE

Physician Spotlight: Dr. Mark Borsody & the Virtual Neurologist

Is it possible to bridge the gap between vitally important access to neurologists, despite the limited supply available? That's exactly the problem that Dr. Mark Borsody and his non-profit NeuroSpring aim to solve through their AI-assisted Virtual Neurologist.

READ MORE

What's happening in telemedicine?

We've collected a sampling of headlines from around the healthcare industry and telemedicine that we wanted to share with you.

The rural telehealth initiative: Lowering barriers to health care

Colleges and Universities expand mental health offerings ahead of fall semester

Behavioral health has a supply and demand issue. Can virtual care help?